Another Session of FACE

Fitness and Character Education (FACE) is a cutting-edge program resulting in improved agility, coordination, focus, and timing. FACE incorporates self-esteem building and character education through public speaking on a specific word or theme within every class session. This arrangement allows FACE to enhance both academic and life skills development. FACE includes a strong focus on fitness - Martial Arts, Animal games, jumping rope and juggling. While fitness training for young people is important, character building is equally essential. FACE helps students become classroom leaders.

Kirk Farber has been teaching FACE at BES since 2005. If you're interested, please complete and return the form below along with a check to insure a spot. We are limiting this program for Grade K through 5th Grade students to a maximum of 15 students. Parents will be responsible for any Extended Day costs associated with this if the situation arises.
